FOOD STUFF AND OTHER SENSITIVE PACKAGING:
The legal requirements applying to the manufacture of food packaging must be observed. The finished packaging must be suitably tested for food safety in an accredited test laboratory before being marketed.

Please refer to “General technical information for GALACRYL® overprint varnishes”.

The information contained in this publication is correct to the best of our knowledge and belief. No liability can be accepted on our part.

Given the many different applications and processing methods, you should always conduct your own tests on our products before commencing production.
